Shipping Lines Pvt. Ltd.

What Sets Us Apart in the NVOCC Space

At Impact Shipping Lines, our competitive edge is built on infrastructure, relationships, and an unwavering commitment to operational excellence. As a container-owning NVOCC, we offer clients superior control over their supply chain — from equipment positioning to space protection.

We own and operate GP, HC & special equipment containers — giving us direct control over positioning, availability and cost.

Flexible Routing

Sector-wise coverage across India–Bangladesh, Middle East, Southeast Asia and coastal routes with adaptable scheduling.

Direct Shipping Line Coordination

Bypassing intermediaries, we coordinate directly with major shipping lines for faster decisions, better space and priority loading.

Reliable Space Protection

Our volume commitments and carrier relationships ensure cargo space is protected even during peak season congestion.

Competitive Pricing

Owner-operator economics translate into significantly better freight rates for our clients without compromising service quality.

Long-Term Partnership Focus

We invest in relationships over transactions — transparent communication, dedicated ops teams, and mutual growth mindset.

★ ISO 9001:2015 Certified

Our quality management system ensures consistent, audited service delivery across all operations.

What is NVOCC & Why It Matters?

A Non-Vessel Operating Common Carrier (NVOCC) is a licensed freight intermediary that consolidates cargo, issues House Bills of Lading, and manages end-to-end ocean freight — without owning the vessel.

What makes Impact different: we own our containers. This gives our clients a critical advantage — equipment availability, faster positioning, and cost control that agent-only NVOCCs simply cannot match.
